" King of Natural Table Waters." "Its Natural Carbonic Ges Imparts to It

Col. Gebhard said: "Conkling used to come up to see me. We were intimate friends, and one afternoon I sold him that I would like to get at the bottom of the estrangement between Mr. Blaine and himself. I told Mr. Conkling that it seemed to me absurd that a man who had been a law-yer all his life, and a public man, should have taken offence at Mr. Blaine's speech calling him a turkey gobblen &c. It was something I could not comprehend. Mr. Conkling replied: 'It is just as absurd to me to take it that way as it is to you. You know I have practised law all my life. If lawyers permitted the animosities of public trials to warp their sensibilities, we would be in a fight with all the world. The true cause of the quarrel hatween Mr. Blaine and myself is that Mr. Blaine took an unfair advantage of me in the House of Representatives to reflect upon my personal integrity.'

"In the discussion growing out of the discontinuing of the office of Provost Marshal-General, Mr. Blaine rose to a question of per sonal privilege. Mr. Conkling told me that he did not pay much attention to Mr. Blaine's speech until he heard his name mentioned. Then, after listening, he found Blaine was making a personal assault, foreign to the matter of personal privilege, and alien to the subject under discussion. Conkling said he listened, and the more he listened the more he was amazed, and then he became angry.

WHY BLAINE AND CONSLING FELL OUT.

A Charge of Receiving Illegal Fees Which the New Yorker Never Eorgave.

Col. Edward Gobbard, a lawrer in the Mutual

Col. Edward Gobbard, a lawler in the Mutual Life Insurance building, said resterday that he thought the true reason for the bitter feel-ing between Roscoe Conkling and James G. Blaine had never been printed. He said that during Mr. Conkling's life in New York city he frequently met the great Republican statessened, and the more he listened the more he was amazed, and then he became angry. Conkling said that he so loat control of himself under the impulse of the moment that he went to his friend. That Stevens, and said:

"Mr. Stevens, you have heard what Mr. Blaine has just said. What shall I do? The question of personal privilege Mr. Blaine used was a personal attack upon my integrity. He has characterized me as a man who has eccepted employment from the Government while I was a member of Congress, and while has characterized me as a man who has eccepted employment from the Government while I was a member of Congress, and while he was decreased by the control of the United States in doing some work in the westigation of certain bounty frauds which had taken place in Elmira, and the Secretary Stanton, end of the trouble. I devoted a groat deal of time to the business, and the upgreated state in root of the trouble. I devoted a groat deal of time to the business, and the upgreated state in the proof of the trouble. I devoted a groat deal of time to the business, and the upgreated state in the proof of the price myself, and that it me that if was to receive anything I preferred to arrange the price myself, and at all events I would not accept such a sum.

I did not want to take a step which could be used against me in any way. I did not want to take a step which could be used against me in any way. I did not want to take a step which could be used against me in any way. I did not want to take a step which could be used against me in any way. I did not want to take a step which could be used against me in any way. I did not want to take a step which could be used against me in any way. was to receive anything I preferred to arrange the price myself, and at all events I would not accept such a sum.

"Pending the discussion between Secretary Stanton and myself, I went to Utlea and talked over the matter with Gov. Seymour and Judge Denio, Chief Judge of the tourt of Appeals, both Democrats. I told them that I did not want to take a step which could be used against me in any way. I did not want to make a show of purity that would be riddenlous, and I did not care about accepting a fee that might be questioned. On my return to Washington the check of Secretary Stanton was reduced to $3,500. Even then I was timid about accepting it, but Stanton said: "By God! I know what services are worth. I have been a lawer all my life, and this money you have got to talle." I did take the money. I felt that I had earned it, and when Mr. Blaine referred to this in the House I felt that he had taken a mean advantage, and I determined never to speak to him again.

"Mr. Conkling told me," continued Mr. Gebhard, 'that Mr. Stovens said to him: 'I'll attend to this for you. Mr. Conkling, and will call for a committee was appointed for the purpose of investigating and reporting, and when it became evident that the report of the committee would entirely exonerate Mr. Conkling from the alleged irregularities, then it was that he recognized the fine hand of Mr. Blaine or his friends in the successful attempt to frustrate the purposes for which the committee was appointed.

"Mr. Conkling told me that he never spoke to Mr. Blaine from that time; that all the frustrate the purposes for which the commit-tee was appointed.

Mr. Conkling told me that he never spoke to Mr. Blaine from that time; that all the charges that Blaine had brought against him were groundless. 'That is the cause for my feeling against Mr. Blaine,' said Mr. Conkling, 'and I shall never speak to the man again or recognize him till he in as public a place as the House of Representatives makes an apol-ogy for the assault he made upon me at that time.'

"Several attempts were made to reconcile
"Rr. Conkling and Mr. Biaine, but Mr. Conkling always said: 'When Mr. Biaine gets up in Congress and takes back this charge then I will be prepared to meet him, and until he does it there I will never speak to him again.'
Subsequently, during the Biaine campaign of 1884. Conkling told me: 'I have received an invitation to a dinner at which Mr. Biaine is to be present. I wonder what the getters up of this dinner take me for. I am a Republican and I believe in the success of my party, but there is one thing I will never do: I will never meet Mr. Biaine until he makes an apology as meet Mr. Blaine until he makes an apology as public as his charges."

MISS BRIGHTMAN PENITENT.

Her Mother Thinks She Never Intended to Miss Estelle Brightman of Rockville Centre. who is reported to have lost her heart to a Kickapoo Indian medicine man named Deer-foot, was at her home yesterday tearful and penitent. She didn't want to be a squawafter all, and her mother said she didn't believe her daughter intended eloping with the Indian. Deerfoot was connected with a Kickapoo medicine show that spent several days in the village, and Mrs. Brightman says she appealed to Deputy Sheriff Pearsall and Constable Rhodes, not to assist her in preventing her daughter from eloping, but to keep the In-dians from following her. She says that on Thursday night, the evening Miss Brightman dians from following her. She says that on Thursday night, the evening Miss Brightman is alleged to have made preparations forgoing away with Deerfoot, one of the Indians followed her daughter to the gate, and that she asked the protection of Deputy Sheriff Fearsall.

The mother's story does not quite agree with that fold by the deputy sheriff, who says Mrs. Brightman asked him to try and prevent the girl from associating with the Indians. She was airsid her daughter might go away with them. the kickatoos are now in Hompstead. Mrs. Brightman predicts that when her husband, who is away on husbness, returns he will go on the warpath and the kickapoos had better look out for their scalps.

Adespatch from New Haven says the Long Alsland show it owhich Deerfoot belongs is one of about fifty such shows sent through the country by a firm of that city to sell kickapoo remedies. Deerfoot is described as a handsome, full-blooded Indian, about 30 years old, and really a Sloux. His father was a warrior in the Custer war, and the son, the despatch adds, takes after the old gentleman. His home, when not travelling with one of the shows, is at the Pine Ridge agency, where he has a wife. One of the firm that employs him says he is one of the best specimens of an Indian whom he has ever seen. He is 0 feet tall, with long black hair hanging about his shoulders. He is the dude of every company in which he appears, as far as clothes are concerned, but he maintains a stolid indifference to everything except business.

MR. M'LEOD'S TESTIMONY.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 4.—The accuracy of New York's Senate stenographer, John M. Ruso of Albany, who reported President A. A. McLeod's testimony before the Legislative Committee of the Empire State last March and September, in the coal combine cases, was legally investigated here to-day. Attorney-General W. U. Hensel appeared for the State of Pennsylvania. Mr. Rusc leclared that he of Fennsylvania. Mr. Ruse 'teclared that he had correctly taken down and transcribed the words of Mr. McLeod. The latter's counsel tried to establish, by a series of questions, the lability of stenographers to error, but did not shake the witness. McLeod's counsel still impeaches the stenographer's accuracy.

The corporate relations between the Philadelphia and Reading Hailroad Company and the Philadelphia and Beading Coal and Iron Company were testified to by Mr. McLeod in a manner not flattering to their independence of each other as competitors if blonographer Ruso did not err. The latter pronounced the printed testimony correct.

File Modern Crataur:

HALF MAN! HALF HORES:

The Quadripedal Query of the Century.

This equi-buman monstrosity has the face, neek, shoulders, arms, and chest of a perfect man, and the hind legs and quarrers of a perfect horse. He whinnies and walks like a horse. But he thinks and tails like a man. What he really is no one can say. See him kick, watch him curvet, trot, and can'er, and you say. "A horse, indeed." Listen to his intellectual flow of language, watch his mobile and singularly expressive face, and you will say. "Not a horse, but a man." Take him as a whole and it vill puzzle you to say whether he be man or horse. What do you think of a Thine, an unspeakable, unnameable Thing, of which the following cut is an exact dounterpart!
